

COMMISSION ON MANDATES COMING

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Geneva, Nov. 29.—The big allied powers today clinched their hold upon the countries for which they hold mandates when the council of the league of nations voted in favor of a permanent mandate commission, which will have wide authority.
There will be nine members on the commission, and all will be selected by the council. The commission will regulate all affairs relating to mandates and will decide questions such as that involved in the American note to Great Britain protesting against a British mandate in Mesopotamia, for which Great Britain holds a mandate.
The session was secret, but it was understood the demand for a mandate commission was unanimous.

AMERICAN NOTE STIRS ASSEMBLY

Colby's Protest Against British Grab of Mesopotamian Oil Field Widely Criticized Among League Members—Australians Prove Strong Support of Empire and Ask What Right We Have to Meddle.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Geneva, Nov. 29.—The American note to Great Britain protesting against favors shown to British oil interests in Mesopotamia, for which country Britain holds a mandate, was a bombshell for the league of nations assembly meeting. It was briefly discussed this morning at a secret session of the league of nations council and promises to furnish material for vigorous debate later on in open sessions of the assembly.
America's note involves not only the oil controversy but also the whole question of the rights of a mandatory power to exercise special privileges in the country for which it holds a mandate. Furthermore it involves the right of the United States, a non-member of the league, to interfere in decisions of the league interpreting war treaties.

On account of the delicacy of the diplomatic negotiations it was regarded as possible that Great Britain and France might take steps to prevent open debate upon the American note fearing that representations of small states and non-nationals might say things which would further retard the entrance of America into the league.
Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, contends that any power taking a mandate for a small and feeble state should have special privileges in disposing of the resources of that state, in view of the cost of exercising the mandate. Lord Robert Cecil is supported by Senator Miller, minister of reparation for Australia and one of the most forceful members of the assembly.

"What right has America to attempt to tell us what we should do?" declared Senator Miller.
"The United States failed to enter the league of nations. She dodged all responsibilities. But now she claims privileges. When we think of what Australians pay for oil it is amusing to hear American oil magnates pleading for privileges on ethical grounds."

Senator Miller intimated that there might be some connection between the American note and the German protest against the supreme council maintaining mandates for the former German colonies.
"The French support that attitude of Lord Robert Cecil, but some of the smaller states are rallying to the protest of Signor Tittoni, of Italy, for the natural resources of the world be pooled. However, the Italian suggestion has strong opposition."

Dr. Croff, throughout Sunday and the delegates composing the various sections spent most of the day in conferences trying to smooth over differences which threaten the future of the league.

BRITISH ROYALTY NOW GUARDED

Elaborate Precautions At Buckingham Palace Against Sinn Féin And Parliament Guard Is Strengthened—Liverpool Incendiarian Angers British People.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 29.—Police precautions were taken today to guard King George and other members of the royal family, now that Irish terrorists have opened their warfare in England with the burning of part of the business district of Liverpool.

Scotland Yard detailed a detachment of picked men from the secret service section to protect Buckingham Palace. In addition to the police and military guards, secret service agents are employed as gardeners in the palace grounds and cleaners in the palace proper. All persons approaching the home of the royal family are carefully scrutinized.

Government officials refused to admit that they had discovered a plot against the lives of the royal family but declared they were taking no chances.

Scotland Yard has asked the newspapers to make no mention of the public movements of Premier Lloyd-George, A. Bonar Law, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Sir Edward Curzon and other public figures who are believed to have been marked for attack.

Additional guards were posted about Parliament Building at noon. The police in the vicinity of the House of Commons and other government property were armed with service pistols, contrary to all traditions of the Metropolitan police. Bodyguards have been provided for all members of the cabinet. All women were barred today from the spectators' gallery of Commons. Men who applied for admission and who were not personally known to the guards were searched.

"The incendiary attack at Liverpool, when 15 warehouses and three lumber yards were burned, has alienated any tepid sympathy which the English have felt for Ireland and turned it to anger," it was declared by Colonel Carver, secretary to Sir Basil Thompson, head of Scotland Yard and chief of the Metropolitan Police.

"I believe for certain that if any terrorists should now dare to lift his hand against the life of Premier Lloyd-George or any member of the royal family, he would be torn limb from limb by a maddened mob."

Secret service agents who have been opening, copying and resealing all Sinn Féin mail in Ireland and England, declare that the latest plot embraces the burning of all English homes of members of the Royal Irish Constabulary and the black and tan police.

London, Nov. 29.—Military and police precautions are taken throughout all England today to protect public and private property following the outbreak of incendiarianism at Liverpool when fifteen cotton warehouses and three lumber yards were burned.

Troops are on guard at Liverpool and the city is quiet. Although several arrests were made the men who actually set the fires are believed to have escaped and to be hiding in this city.

The government claims to have evidence that Sinn Féin terrorists were responsible for the Liverpool fires and that similar attacks with the torch are planned in London and elsewhere throughout England.

An attempt to set fire to a lumber yard in north London was frustrated by the police.

A policeman was shot dead at Liverpool while attempting to arrest a suspected incendiarian.

Parliament building, in London, the premier's official residence and most of the other government properties as well as most of the members of the cabinet are protected by armed guards.

According to the press the Irish terrorists have systematic plans to create a reign of panic in England and the whole country is threatened with "domestic warfare."

This was the first week and since Irish disorders became acute that violence occurred simultaneously in Ireland and England.

Wholesale arrests by British troops and black and tan police continue throughout Ireland. Approximately 1,000 arrests have been made in the past eight days and it is believed that Sinn Féin arrests will have been made before Christmas. New prisons and internment camps are being constructed to accommodate the captives. All of the military chiefs of the Sinn Féin army and the prominent civilian leaders are being arrested.

British army officials at Londonderry have been warned to leave the city on penalty of death at the hands of Irish republicans, if they return, according to a dispatch from that city to the Evening News.

It is reported in Londonderry, says the Evening News correspondent, that "Irish-American gunmen" have arrived from the United States. A policeman was shot dead and a police sergeant was wounded in an attack at Londonderry.

Repetitive violence broke out at Londonderry and black and tan police were reported to have burned the town. A fifteen year old boy was killed.
Two persons were shot at Thurles, Louisa bridge out of Cork during another day of terrorism.
Soldiers captured the leaders. The Irish often have issued formal notices of the press recent time. American gunmen had been imported to Ireland or that they had,

SKILLYPOT BACK FROM VACATION

The ferryboat Skillypot which has been off the route while undergoing a necessary overhauling at Hiltbrand's shipyard was towed back to her slip late Saturday afternoon, and resumed her schedule. She will continue running until stopped by broken chain or too heavy ice. With the Skillypot off the route all vehicles had to detour by way of Eddyville, and especially with horse drawn rigs the detour worked a hardship by the time it occupied.

been concerned in the Liverpool outbreak.

"We now have the most efficient secret service in the world and we certainly would know if it professional gunmen were imported from the United States by the terrorists," said an official of the Irish office.

The same government department denied that the Irish now being interned would be treated as prisoners of war. It was stated that the trials of the prisoners would be opened within a week and that evidence secured by troops and police raids would be used as the basis of the prosecution. The government will seek long terms of imprisonment instead of minor sentences as formerly.

Scotland Yard has created a special department to deal with the spread of Irish violence to England. Squads of detectives were dispatched today to strategic points. Freeman were under special orders to be on the alert.

Sir Basil Thompson, who succeeded Sir Nevill Mac Ready as head of Scotland Yard and Chief of the Metropolitan police conferred with members of the government on further measures of police precautions.

The guards about Whitehall where many government buildings are located, have been tripled. Extraordinary measures have been taken to protect Sir Hamar Greenwood and his whole family. Secret service agents had reported the discovery of evidence that Sinn Féin agents, especially incensed over the official attitude taken by Sir Hamar, have marked the family for reprisal.

Some of the newspapers took the view that Sinn Féin agents are not wholly responsible for the latest violence, but that bolsheviks were also behind it. Communication with Liverpool was disturbed during the night and this led some of the morning papers to make the most sensational declarations.

"A Sinn Féin attempt to burn down Liverpool," was the "sensational" headline used by the Daily Sketch.

"Sinn Féin outrage" was the headline used by the Daily Express.

It is clear the government's handling of Irish leaders did not start a day too early to save the peace of Great Britain," said the Chronicle. "Still graver events are feared."

The Graphic asserted that the Third International (the Communist organization of Russia) was behind the movement.

"The government officers were to have been beheaded on Sunday, but the vigilance of the secret service agents frustrated it," said the Graphic.
A five o'clock train was arrested near London and was stopped and searched for a week without had in order to give the police time to investigate his movements and affiliations.
The prisoner gave the name of William Robinson and said he was a student.
A Scotland Yard inspector told the court that Robinson's home had been searched and Irish literature found. It was upon the inspector's request that bail was refused.

BRITAIN NOT TO BAR CONSTANTINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 29.—Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, has notified Premier Legergues of France that Great Britain will refuse to put any formal embargo upon the return to Athens of ex-King Constantine of Greece, the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph revealed today. Great Britain holds it would be premature to raise this issue and also the question of revising the treaty of Sevres at this time. Earl Curzon pointed out, however, that material guarantees will be demanded from Constantine if he returns to Athens, and Greece hopes to secure a continuation of British and French support.

Premier Legergues was compelled to break off his discussions with Premier Lloyd George in order to be present in the chamber of deputies at Paris during debate on the question of reviving Franco-Vatican relations. There will be a full meeting of the supreme council on Thursday, with Great Britain, France and Italy represented. German reparations, Russia and Near East problems will be discussed.

Women have outgrown them now. I hope that another term will be found for 'mother-in-law,' which has become a joke through comic literature."

FRED ELWYN WAS CRIMINALLY NEGLIGENT

Is Finding of Coroner Lasher After Investigation of Woodstock Auto Accident in Which Charles Wolven Was Killed by Elwyn's Car.

Coroner Norvin R. Lasher of Saugerties has filed his finding in regard to the death of Charles Wolven of Woodstock, who was killed on October 15th by an automobile owned and operated by Fred Elwyn of that place, in which he holds that Mr. Wolven's death was caused by the "criminal and culpable negligence" of Elwyn.
Mr. Wolven was employed as assistant superintendent of the Kingston city water works at Woodstock and at the time he was killed he was on the way with his son-in-law, Percy Hill, to attend a lodge meeting at Bearville. They were walking along the road leading to Woodstock when they were struck by the Elwyn automobile. Elwyn had been in Kingston during the afternoon and was returning home with members of his family. The grade of the road leading to Woodstock from the Rileys farm house is steep and motorists usually make the hill on high speed. Mr. Wolven was dragged seventy-two feet from the place he was struck and died within a short time from a fractured skull. A cake he had been carrying to the lodge meeting dropped in the roadway when he was struck. His son-in-law was also struck by the car. The occupants of the car said they did not see the two men on the road. Immediately after the accident Elwyn said that Mr. Wolven had stepped directly in front of the car.
Two hearings were held at the court house by Coroner Lasher, at which the examination of witnesses was conducted by District Attorney Traver, who hastened to Woodstock immediately after being notified of Mr. Wolven's death.
Coroner Lasher reports having examined the body and attached to his finding a transcript of the testimony of the witnesses who were examined at each hearing.
He finds:
"That the said Charles Wolven, deceased, was on the 15th day of October, 1920, at the town of Woodstock, in the county of Ulster aforesaid, killed and came to his death as the result of the criminal and culpable negligence of one Fred Elwyn."

QUICK ACTION ON BERNSTEIN WINDOW

On Tuesday, November 23, a show window in the store of Sam Bernstein & Co., 335 Wall street, was broken by a large umbrella that was blown off a farmer's wagon, and notwithstanding the glass broken was $32144 inches in size, the largest single plate glass window in the city, the glass has been replaced within four days, although Thanksgiving Day, a holiday, intervened. This is a remarkable speed record when it is considered that plate glass, especially the larger sizes, is extremely hard to get quickly. The glass was insured in the Lloyds Plate Glass Insurance Company, through the agency of De Witt, Tremper & Osterhout, and immediately after the glass was broken Sam Bernstein reported the loss to the local agency, notifying them that as the holiday season was here he was very anxious to have the plate glass replaced as quickly as possible in order to use the display window.

The agency in turn they got busy and used the telephone to inform the company in New York of this loss, and they at once scoured New York city. They found a piece of glass of the large size necessary, and on Saturday it arrived in this city at 9 p. m. on an automobile truck on which it had been sent from New York, and at 10:30 the glass setters had the old broken glass removed and the new plate glass set in place. Today the window is all dressed in its holiday display and Sam Bernstein & Co. feel very thankful for the quick work done in their behalf.

LATE PARIS MODES

skirts Are Shorter, Sleeves Both Short and Long.

Monkey Fur Trimming Used on Gowns and Wraps; Much Silk Braid Is Favored.

Fashions may come and fashions may go, but Paris keeps right on thinking up new and more fascinating ones to take their places. At least so madame will think when she sees the new clothes, the fashion makers have planned for her winter wearing. No, skirts are not going to be longer. Any woman can decide that for herself when she sees the new gowns. They were short, they grew shorter, and one might say that the new skirts for winter are shortest of all! Sleeves too, are as often short as long. Some are high above the elbow, some cover the wrist and come down over the hand—but then one expects Paris to go to extremes—and she does.

For the new gowns the foremost French dressmakers are using duvetyn, and the softest of crepes. One charming gown, a Lanvin, was of mid-weight blue duvetyn with cut-out designs of duvetyn on blue velvet trimmings.

Monkey fur for trimming is another Paris idea. It made a striking bit of trimming on a smart new coat dress of white broadcloth, which had wide band of white stitching on filmy black net and a high collar and deep cuffs of black monkey fur. And this same fur you will see used on other Paris gowns—gowns from the most famous houses. And there are other ideas of trimming. Much silk braid is used—the braid, of course, put on by hand, in the French fashion, and most effectively arranged. But most unusual of all was the trimming on a street dress, trimmed with shining steel "nailheads." It was certainly unique, and, queerly enough, was rather attractive.

Paris wraps, too, show originality and charm, and are sometimes as unusual as the gowns. Think of a wrap for instance, lined with shadow lace. Yet that was the distinctive feature about one exquisite creation—a lovely young velvet in soft pink, lined with foxy, creamy lace. By way of finish there was a fluffy collar and a band of snowy white fox.

You will see monkey fur on the new wraps too—it was used on a perfectly lovely black broadcloth velvet. This wrap was lined with robin's egg blue crepe velvet, there were great ornate buttons at the armholes and a wide collar of monkey fur for a finishing touch.

ROCK OF HEAVY CREPE SILK

This is a frock especially designed from an old picture. It is a heavy crepe silk with colored wool embroidery.

Stresses in Two Classes.

Stresses for the coming season are divided into two classes, as has been known during the season just ending. In the first class, the older, with odds of the latter for smart trade. Thinking will be largely confined to tailored members for wear with tailored suits and in the cheaper quality where every inch of material counts in turning them out at a given price, the latter style types come in medium high class, and were exclusive models for formal and dressy parties. —Women's Wear.

Conditions prevailing on the New York city market for products sold during the week with quotations to Friday noon:
Apples—The fresh receipts of barreled apples from Western New York and the Hudson Valley were fairly liberal during the first part of the week but considerably lighter in the end. The bulk of the fruit arriving was "A" grade, and mostly of fair to ordinary quality and condition and as such, met a moderate demand. "B" grade and unclassified stock was practically neglected. There was a demand for extra fancy, large size (3-inch) Greenings, Kings, Northern Spys and Baldwins in good condition, but the proportion of this class of goods was very small compared with the general supply. Snow and McIntosh apples not over-ripe are still in active demand, but most offerings of these varieties were not of good condition.

Market closed steady for strictly fancy red and green varieties; fairly steady for the best "A" grade offerings available; but considerably weaker for the fair to ordinary class of fruit of either variety and color.

New York state offerings in double-headed barrels, minimum volume three bushels, Standard, York Imperial, $4 to $4.25; Baldwin, $4 to $5; a few extra fancy, $5.50; Ben Davis, best, $5.50 to $6; ordinary, $5 to $6; Greenings, common storage, best, $4.50 to $5.50; ordinary, $3 to $4; cold storage, $5.50 to $6; a few extra fancy, $6.50 to $7; Hubbardston, $2.50 to $4; a few $4.25; Jonathan, $5 to $6; King, best, $5 to $5.50; ordinary, $4.50; some extra fancy (3-inch), $6; McIntosh, $6.50 to $7; extra fancy, $7.50 to $8; (Vermont), $8 to $10; Twenty Ounce, best, $4.50 to $5; ordinary, $3.50 to $4; (3-inch), $5.50; Wealthy, $5 to $6; Tallman Sweet, $5 to $6; Gano, $4 to $4.50; extra fancy slightly higher; Northern Spy, best, $5 to $8; ordinary, $4.50 to $5.50; Delicious, $5.50 to $6.

Bulk Apples—Fairly plentiful throughout the week with the demand about equal to the supply, especially for fruit in good condition. Market closed steady, but prices remain practically unchanged since close of last week.

In bulk, per barrel (containing about 144 to 150 pounds). Red stock, different varieties and sizes, orchard run (culls only), per barrel, $2.50 to $3, mostly $2.50. Green stock, $2 to $2.25.

Pears—The fresh receipts from the Hudson River Valley and Western New York were fairly plentiful but lighter than the past week. The demand was fairly active for Seckel and Beurre Bosc stock in good condition. Other varieties sold less freely. Kieffer pears, unless extra fancy, were in very little demand. Market generally closed slightly weaker and prices lower for anything that was not of fancy quality and in good condition.

New York offerings in double-headed barrels, minimum volume three bushels, per barrel. Beurre d'Anjou, best, $5.50 to $6.50; ordinary, $4 to $5; No. 2's, $2.50 to $3.50; Beurre Clairgeau, best, $6.50 to $7; a few, $7.50; ordinary, $5 to $6; No. 2's, $3.50 to $4.50; Beurre Rose, best, $11 to $12; ordinary, $8 to $10. In bushel boxes, fancy, $4.50 to $5; ordinary, $3 to $4; Kieffer, best, $2.50 to $3; some extra fancy, a few small sizes, $4.50 to $5; ordinary, $2 to $2.50; No. 2's, $1.50 to $2. In bushel baskets or hamper, 70c to 75c; some poor, lower. Seckel, per barrel, best, $8 to $9; ordinary, $6 to $7. In bushel baskets or hamper, $2.25 to $2.75. In bushel boxes, fancy, $2.75 to $3; ordinary, $2.25 to $2.50. Shoshone, per barrel, best, $8 to $9; ordinary, $6 to $7; No. 2's, $4.50 to $5.50; Lawrence, $2.50 to $3.50.

"Snapping" the Air.
The greatest discovery yet made in capturing the air is that the atmosphere consists of two layers, the lower extending from sea level up to 100,000 feet, in which there is a steady fall of temperature with elevation. This is called the troposphere. Above this there is no fall, and up to 200,000 feet a slight rise. The upper layer is known as the stratosphere. It is actually possible today for an airplane to rise from the ground to the bottom of the stratosphere, say about 60,000 feet, in one hour. If we want to fly higher, say 20,000 feet, we must light instruments on a sounding balloon.

Small Gifts Made of Box Boards

By DOROTHY PERKINS
(Copyright by A. Neely Hall)

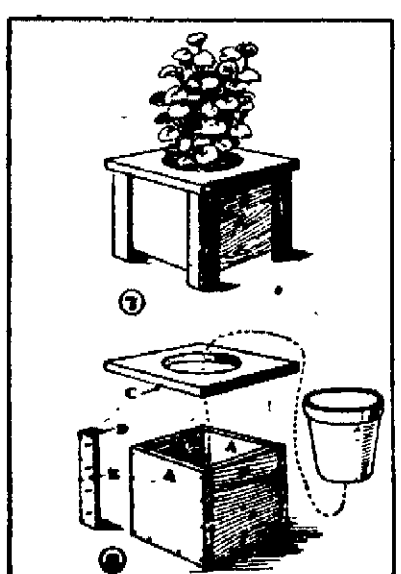

Box boards can be used in the making of practical Christmas gifts, especially small gifts.
Whiskbroom holders never fail to please. The holder in Fig. 1 requires a single board of the dimensions shown in Fig. 2.
Use a small saw for cutting. Cut a trifle outside of the outline, then finish to the line with plane and sandpaper. Bore a pair of holes near the top of the board, in the positions shown, to slip over wall hangers.

Two coats of white enamel make a nice finish for a wooden whiskbroom holder. If the wood is clear, you can shellac and varnish it, or stain and wax it. A stain can be made of oil paint thinned with turpentine.

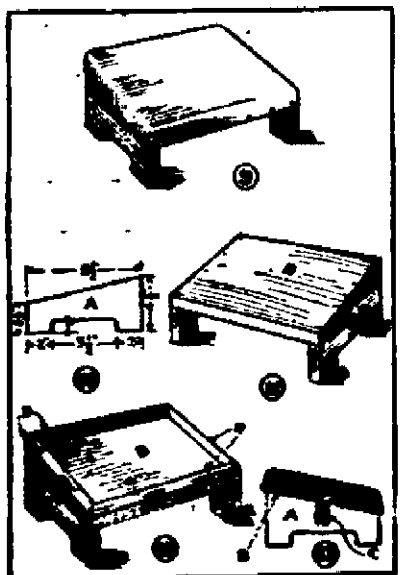

The necktie-rack in Fig. 3 has a back of the dimensions of the upper part of the whiskbroom holder; therefore, if you make the holder first, you can mark out the tie-rack board from it. Figure 4 shows the height to make the back. Bore holes for hangers. Figure 5 shows dimensions for the rod bracket, and Fig. 6 shows dimensions for the tie-rod. Bore the hole for the rod through the bracket before cutting out the block, to prevent the possibility of splitting while boring. A carpenter's spool-stick, dogstaff, or stick whittled to the diameter given, may be used for the rod. Center the rod upon the bracket, and center the bracket upon the back.

The plant-stand shown in Fig. 7 is designed to conceal the earthen pot of a potted plant.

The diameter of the pot will determine the inside width and length of the box. Make the inside depth an inch less than the depth of the pot. Figure 8 shows how sides A nail in the ends of sides B, and how the bottom fits between the sides.

Cut top C to fit the top of the box, with a projection of 1 inch all around. Cut the center hole a trifle larger than the pot, so the pot will slip in and out easily. After the top has been nailed on, prepare the center strips D and E, nail them together and nail a glue to each box corner.

The finished in Fig. 9 will be appreciated by every lover of a good book and an easy chair. First prepare and piece A by the pattern of Fig. 10, then top board B. The length of B should be 14 or 16 inches, the width will be governed by the length of pieces A. Nail top B to pieces A, then cut piece C (Fig. 12) and insert it between runners A. To the ends of top B nail strips D (Fig. 12). Round the top edges as shown.
Pack dampened cloth between strips D (Fig. 12). Then cover the exterior with a piece of cloth, and tack it to the edges of top B.

DESERT IS SAFE FOR TRAVELERS

Government Issues Guide to Springs and Wells in Salton Sea Region.

PROSPECTOR STARTS MOVE

United States Geological Survey in Co-operation With Engineering Department of California University Makes Survey of Desert.

Washington.—The repellent though interesting phrase "Great American Desert" was sprawled across a large part of some of the earlier maps of our western and southwestern territory, and though the area of supposed desert land was thus exaggerated, enough real desert remains to justify large studies of methods of utilizing it and special studies of its water resources and watering places in order to make journeys across it safe for travelers.

Travelers in the desert region of the Southwest must depend for their existence on "water holes" (springs, wells or natural tanks), many of which are separated from one another by a hard day's journey with team and wagon. The water holes in most of this region have never been accurately mapped or described, no systematic provision has been made for maintaining them, and the roads leading to them have not been marked with substantial and reliable signs, so that travel in the parts of the region that are remote from settlements has been precarious and even perilous.

A Pioneer for Safety in the Desert.

The movement for the protection of prospectors and travelers on the arid desert plains of his country was begun many years ago by George W. Parsons, a prospector and desert expert of Los Angeles, Cal. In 1901 Mr. Parsons made a trip across the desert region of California with Prof. W. L. Watts, state mineralogist, and, on his return, urged upon the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce the necessity of placing guide posts and of developing watering holes in the desert.

Mr. Parsons' work led to an appropriation by congress, as a result of which the United States geological survey, Department of the Interior, in co-operation with the department of engineering of the state of California, surveyed the southern California desert and has recently issued a report, entitled "Routes to Desert Water Region, Places in the Salton Sea Region, California," by John S. Brown.

Region Covered by the Report.

The region covered by this guide is in the southwest corner of California and is about one hundred miles in length and breadth, covering about ten thousand square miles. Its northern limit is the thirty-fourth parallel and its southern is the boundary between the United States and Mexico; its eastern border is marked by Colorado river, which separates California and Arizona, and its western by the meridian of 116 degrees 40 minutes. It therefore includes Imperial county and the most arid parts of Riverside and San Diego counties.

In addition to maps showing the roads and the watering places, the guide contains road logs and brief descriptions of the watering places. For the convenience of travelers coming and going, the logs of nearly all the roads are given in two directions. Information and sketch maps are included for certain roads that extend somewhat beyond the northern boundary of the region as defined above. In order to connect the routes in this region with watering places beyond its limits. On the other hand, a considerable area in the western part of the region is high and well-watered and the routes in it are given only for certain irregular westward extensions of the desert.

The report just published, which is listed as water supply paper 490-A, may be obtained free of charge by applying to the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

DOG GETS ONE FREE BITE

Los Angeles Woman Loses Suit for Damages Because of Quirk in the Law.

Los Angeles.—Because it was not shown that a dog belonging to E. C. Zerris had been bit in any person before biting Mrs. Alma Westberg in Wilmington October 2, 1919, Judge Valentine declined to award Mrs. Westberg damages against Mr. Zerris. The law is that a dog is entitled to one bite; after that his owner may be held liable after being notified.

Judge Valentine said he regretted the law had been so construed. It was evident that Mrs. Westberg had been severely injured. Last January Mrs. Westberg obtained judgment for $600 in this action, but a new trial was granted.

TO ARGUE BIG RAIL CASE HERE

Roads Ready to Make Fight Against Making Permanent of Judge Cropper's Injunction and U. S. Supreme Court Will Probably Be Called Upon.

An important matter is scheduled to come up before Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck at the monthly regular special term on Saturday, December 4, being arguments on an order granted Saturday by Justice Cropper in supreme court, Brooklyn. It was one of two orders granted on the application of Deputy Attorney General Edward Griffin, restraining the railroads of the state entering New York city from increasing their rates allowed by the interstate commerce commission. The order is a temporary one and is made returnable before Justice Hasbrouck in the supreme court next Saturday.

It was said that the railroads would make a bitter fight against the making of the injunction permanent, and that in all probability the injunction would be dissolved and the complainants directed to appeal to the United States supreme court to the end that the power of the interstate commerce commission to regulate rates within state lines may be finally settled.

Mr. Griffin explained that the case was the first of its kind and that the question to be decided was whether the states shall relinquish their control over railroads and place it in the hands of the federal government. He said the railroads had lost no time in taking advantage of the order of the interstate commission, and, instead of waiting until reasonable preparations could be made to test the legality of the order, decided to institute the increased rates immediately.

"The contention of the attorney general," Mr. Griffin continued, "is that the interstate commerce commission has absolutely no right to order changes in intrastate rates. The railroads claim that passengers are taking advantage of the chance to buy tickets through one state to a point near its border and then buying a short distance ticket into the next state. In this way, the railroads say, they are losing $20,000,000 a year in passenger fares.

On the other hand, the interstate commerce commission contends that the interstate railroad business is so inextricably woven with intrastate business that it is impossible to control the one without also controlling the other. The whole matter will have to be settled finally by the United States supreme court."

Atmosphere Above Earth's Surface.

The atmosphere is believed to extend much more than 100 miles above the earth's surface. Its density decreases rapidly for the first few miles of ascent, then much more gradually. From the phenomenon of twilight, due to refraction of light, it may be demonstrated that the air extends up to a height of 45 miles; but other phenomena, such as the behavior of meteors and the aurora, show that rare air exists at a much greater height.

Human Stepping Stones.

There are said to be many "stepping stones" in China. When a Chinese lady comes to a muddy place in the road she usually gets over it by employing a human stepping stone. Beckoning a boy she gives him a small coin, in return for which he drops on his hands and knees in the mud far her to step on.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(By 1250, Western Newspaper Union.)

"The next time worry chases you, straighten up and take a walk. It's useless to keep brooding. And above all—do not talk. When you're in the open, fill your lungs with full air, enjoy each breath and motion. And for better luck prepare."

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

There are few people who can resist a piece of nicely baked corn bread.

Cornbread.

Sift together three-quarters of a cupful of cornmeal, half a cupful of flour, one-quarter of a cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful each of soda and salt. Beat one egg, add one cupful of thick sour milk—butter-milk is better, or, still better, sour cream—and three tablespoonfuls of shortening, melted; stir into the dry ingredients and bake in a shallow pan 25 minutes.

Delicious Muffins.—Sift together one and one-half cupfuls of flour (pastry), two and one-half tablespoonfuls of granulated cornmeal, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt and one-third of a cupful of sugar; add three-quarters of a cupful of milk and three tablespoonfuls of melted butter; mix together thoroughly and bake in hot, well-buttered muffin tins 25 minutes.

Cream Cheese Salad.—This may be made with any variety of soft cheese. To two cream cheeses add two tablespoonfuls of cream, one pineapple, 20 olives and half a cupful of blanched almonds—the ingredients are chopped very fine and separately; mix all together thoroughly with a wooden spoon; press into a mold lined with paraffin paper. When firm and chilled, unmold and cut in slices. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves of lettuce with French dressing.

Roasted Rice.—Cut two or three slices of bacon into small squares; add a cupful of cabbage, chopped; cover and let steam half an hour. Wash half a cupful of rice by bringing it to a boil over a quick fire in a quart of water, then drain in cold water. Add the rice to the cabbage with half a teaspoonful of salt, the same of pepper and two cupfuls of hot water. Let cook until the rice is tender, adding more broth as needed. Then toss a hot serving dish, set a tablespoonful of butter in the center and sprinkle generously with ground cheese.

HUGE WET STOCK IN PITTSBURGH

"Whiskey Ring" With Covetous Eyes Look at 14,000,000 Gallons of Fine Whiskies in Government Warehouses—Much Stolen.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—There are 14,000,000 gallons of whiskey stored in warehouses in the Pittsburgh district. The bootleg value is $326,000,000, according to present quotations. Of course, there is some fluctuation in Pittsburgh bootleg prices. There is sort of a "bull" market, so far as prices are concerned, when the enforcement officers get too active and the whiskey runners pass the word to "lay off awhile." In such cases the supply, where whiskey may be bought, gets scarce and profiteers take advantage of the situation and send prices up.

But the minute the dry agents relax their vigilance there is a flood of whiskey and a "bear" market follows. The whiskey ring has a most wonderful espionage system. It reaches everywhere and is even reputed to have ramifications even into some pretty high spots, too. At any rate, the whiskey runners and all those having a hand in the illicit selling and handling of contraband liquor are unusually well informed. Their espionage system has been jokingly compared to the old Russian "third section." But the famed "third section" never had anything on the rum ring's spy system. None of the master minds have ever been apprehended and few of the lesser lights. It is only the pikers who land in Federal court.

Warehouses near Pittsburgh have been boldly robbed and truckload after truckload of whiskey stolen. About all the thieves got away safely. Thousands upon thousands of gallons of whiskey have trickled out of the warehouses into unlawful hands.

Since the United States supreme court decision permitting whiskey to be withdrawn in a legal manner, it is expected the 14,000,000 gallons still in the warehouse in the Pittsburgh district will move faster. The owners are expected to not lose much time getting their whiskey out of these warehouses lest the thieves beat them to it. Of course, the thieves cannot steal all of the 14,000,000 gallons, but if they keep up their activities in the future equal to those in the past year, or so, they will make a pretty big dent in the available supply. So it is expected whiskey owners will act quickly.

At prohibition headquarters in the Bowen building here, it is stated that the release of the 14,000,000 gallons now in storage will have no nullifying effect on the Volstead amendment. Local Federal authorities are awaiting the Revenue Department interpretation of the United States supreme court decision.

Should the Internal Revenue commissioner decide that the whiskey cannot be withdrawn, the owners of the whiskey are likely to seek an injunction from the Federal court restraining the revenue department from interfering with their withdrawals. Around the Federal building it was believed that the issue would again reach the United States supreme court for a more definite interpretation.

State Prohibition Director W. Wayne Hindman and Prohibition Agent-in-charge Charles C. Gregg, maintain that the supreme court decision on the face of it does not provide for the wholesale release of whiskey from government or commercial warehouses. Director Hindman characterized the interpretation "that whiskey could be withdrawn from commercial warehouses upon proof of ownership" as "utterly non-sensical."

Both the director and agent-in-charge Gregg foresee "immense difficulties" in the apprehension and conviction of dry law violators should the revenue department declare for the release of liquors from warehouses.

"Should the whiskey now in storage be released," said Gregg, "the enforcement squads throughout the country will have to increase their personnel at least 500 per cent." This would entail an expense amounting into the millions.

According to Mr. Gregg, 95 per cent of the liquor withdrawn was removed on fake permits. "Now comes this possible multiplication of our troubles. The prohibition enforcer's lot is exceedingly tough," Gregg concluded.

The big point being raised in the Pittsburgh district is whether whiskey stored in the government warehouses can be withdrawn. It is generally believed that the revenue men will hold that the supply in commercial warehouses can be removed. There are still millions of gallons of whiskey in the government warehouses in the Pittsburgh district.

OLD WOMAN PROPOSES.

She Was Over a Century in Age—Wanted to Marry Aged Man.
"Better too late than never," is the philosophy of one of Omaha's oldest—in fact, the oldest—female residents. Mrs. Patrick Conway, aged 101, recently took advantage of the long year opportunities and proposed to Daniel Kennedy, aged 100, of Newark, N.J., by the mail route.

Kennedy, who recently made a trip to New York and other cities, taking $75,000 with him, received the proposition with little enthusiasm. He stated that he was too busy at the present time to accept the invitation, and also declared that his lawyers had told him that his money was almost all out of the question.

Utah Sugar Men Indicted.

Indictments charging the Utah-Sugar company, its officers and a number of other Salt Lake City and Ogden business men with conspiring to monopolize the sugar business in Utah, were returned by a Federal grand jury, which held a secret session in Salt Lake City, Utah, Sunday morning, when jurors for the arrest of three men were named.

Spencer Popular in America.

Herbert Spencer, the great philosopher, was more popular in America during his life than in England. When Spencer visited the United States, in 1882, his fame and influence were so securely established that one admirer offered to pay all the expenses incurred by the philosopher on his trip, and heads of railways offered him the most luxurious traveling facilities, while other friends vied with one another to make the tour comfortable, interesting and instructing.

Life's Real Meaning.

As the sun rises every soul is born again, and the new day gives us a chance to begin all over again. We can do and be what we will to do and be for the entire day. We can make it a red-letter day if we try hard enough. This is the way of growth. And if life does not mean growth, enlargement to us, then we have missed its higher meaning.—Orison Swett Marden in Common Daily News.

Get The Grinding Habit

If a food expert came along and outlined a plan to you whereby you could save from 12 to 26 per cent of the food you and your family have been in the habit of eating—if he outlined such a plan which would not necessitate any sacrifice on your part, would follow it, wouldn't you?

While we won't attempt to tell you how you and your family can live more cheaply, we will, however, undertake to outline a very simple plan whereby you can save from 12 to 26 per cent of the food ordinarily eaten by your five stock, involving no sacrifice to the stock. It is just this—GRIND YOUR FEED!

Grained feed is readily digested so that the full food value is utilized and converted into beef, butter, horse power or pork. The saving over feeding whole feed, as already indicated, amounts to from 12 to 26 per cent, which represents the proportion of whole feed that passes through the intestinal tract undigested—wasted.

THE HEART OF A CHILD

DAIRYMEN'S ANNUAL MEETING

Saturday afternoon the annual meeting of the members of the Kingston Branch of the State Dairy-men's League was held at the court room in the court house, and there was a goodly attendance. Those present were disappointed as they expected a speaker from the League to be present. Officers were elected as follows: President, Edward McSpirt, for the tenth consecutive year; vice-president, Jacob V. Merritt; secretary, Albert Brown; treasurer, Augustus Elmedorf. The following were chosen as the sales committee: Charles A. Schipp; C. N. DeWitt; Matthew T. N. DeWitt. The members elected Albert Brown as delegate to the Stockholders' convention to be held at Utica N. Y., Wednesday, December 8th, with instructions to use his best efforts to have Chester Young of the town of Wawarsing appointed director for this district. The matter of pooling the milk was discussed and a number of producers who had not signed at the previous meeting did so on Saturday. The membership of the Kingston Branch shows nearly every producer in this section of the county enrolled.

St. James's Music Enjoys.

There was a very large congregation present at the St. James Methodist Church on Sunday evening, the occasion being an unusually fine musical service. The double quartet rendered Maunders' cantata, "The Song of Thanksgiving," and those present were evidently delighted with the service from beginning to end. Music, when well rendered, does still attract people in large numbers. Next Sunday will be "Pillar of Fire," and the service in the evening will have some very unique features.

FINDS CITY BETTER

Ex-resident Notes Progress To Be Proud Of Here.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 27, 1920.
To the Editor,
Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—
It was my pleasure to spend a few days of my vacation in Kingston (my birthplace) this fall, this being my first visit there within the last four or five years, and I was forcibly impressed by the indications of progress and improvement on all sides. Your electric railways, handsome new school and library buildings, new manufacturing enterprises, and the apparent enlargement of old business houses, all bear proof that the old colonial city of Kingston is surely and steadily marching onward and forward. Even that old landmark, the chain-ferry (or the "skilly pot"), as I so frequently heard it called in childhood days) will soon be but a memory. But of all the improvements noted, none impressed me so much as the "Arch of Welcome," and I am sure that every visitor to your interesting city must be as greatly pleased as I was over the message extended to them by means of that arch, both upon arriving within and leaving the city limits.

Kingstonians should not only be proud of their fair city, but should give due appreciation and thanks to those who have labored to bring about such pleasing and substantial results.

I assure you I am proud to claim Kingston as my "home town".
Very truly yours,
AN EX-RESIDENT.

Held Heart in High Esteem.

During the Middle ages the heart, believed to be the seat of the affections, was an organ of great importance after death and lords and ladies, kings and queens, gave orders to have their hearts sent to a sweetheart, relative, or to a church in a silver cup or golden vase. Sometimes it was embalmed and placed in a silver casket as was the heart of Bruce entrusted to his faithful Douglas, who wore it suspended from his neck. In the cathedral of Rouen, the old French city, ancient capital of Normandy, where Joan of Arc met her death, lies the "Iron heart" of England's first Richard, and the hearts of many other history makers of olden times rest far apart from the body.

Always the Silver Lining.

We'll admit that the future of the so-called civilized world unfolds no radiant prospect to the vision of the student. Still, the sky can never become so black, but that a 60-pound watermelon will spray the frowning archway with rainbows and spangle the horizons with flashes of gold.—Hous-ton Post.

VAUGHN SPEAKS
FROM EXPERIENCE

Frank Vaughn, president of the Schenectady Rotary Club, is a man prominently fitted to bring a message of progress in boys' welfare work to the Kingston Boys' Welfare Conference in the High School Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Vaughn's experience and interest qualify him to speak with knowledge on both the civic and ethical and the industrial sides of measures for the welfare of boys. He is experienced as an executive through his position with the General Electric Company of which he is manager of the meter department. He has also been greatly interested in new boys' and was active in organizing a Newsboys' Association in Schenectady.

He has been a leading factor in helping to co-ordinate the activities in Schenectady in behalf of the boys. He has maintained an intimate touch with the work of the Schenectady Juvenile Court and by personal service and by enlisting the interest of other business and professional men in Schenectady has been a real friend to the boy on probation. Mr. Vaughn has earned the confidence and affection of all Schenectady boys.

The list of delegates appointed as official representatives of various organizations and societies is rapidly growing, and in practically every case assurances are given that the attendance from the particular organization or society will be many times the number of official delegates. Along with this goes every evidence of the arousing of a very general public interest in this conference of Kingston people for Kingston boys.

Among the letters received by Chairman Frank Seelye of the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, three are typical of the hearty response to the committee's invitation. Admiral F. J. Higginson, president of the U. S. Children's Agency for Dependent Children, writes:

"I beg leave to acknowledge an invitation to attend a conference on boys' work at the high school building, November 30th, and December 1st."

It will give this society great pleasure to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club in this very laudable enterprise.

I have requested Mrs. Charles Preston and Miss Mary Haldane to attend this conference and expect to be present myself.

Charles J. Mullen, Secretary Kingston Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, says:

"Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. Elks will send as their delegates, Dr. Morton Low, Morris Samter and Edgar E. Dempsey. The Order of Elks is greatly interested in the boys and if Kingston Lodge of Elks in any way can assist your committee in anyway they will gladly do your wish."

Wishing you success in this great undertaking is the wish of Kingston Lodge B. P. O. Elks.

Rev. Arthur S. Cole, minister of the First Baptist Church, writes:

"In response to your communication concerning the Conference on Boys' Work, I would say that the First Baptist Church of Kingston is in hearty sympathy with the proposed conference and its objects and will cooperate in every way possible. We have appointed the following delegates: Representing the Officers of the Church, B. W. Healy; Bible School, J. W. Matthews; Men's Organization, James L. Rowe; Christian Endeavor Society, Luther S. Decker."

The Federation of Women's Clubs of the various clubs individually have appointed the following delegates:

City Federation—Mrs. M. J. Michael, Mrs. G. F. Rice, Mrs. F. W. Thompson.

Atharhaston—Dr. Ebba Dederer Colerice, Mrs. S. M. Watts.

Lowell—Mrs. W. N. Fessenden.

Monday—Mrs. Van Hovenberg.

Twentieth Century—Mrs. H. Walker.

Sorosis—Mrs. Vernon Hull.

Individual Membership—Chairman—Mrs. A. R. Powley.

IN POLICE COURT.

Vitoek Arrested on Charge of Abusing Sunday Pool.

Michael Vitoek of No. 37 Third avenue was arrested Sunday by Officer James P. Martin on a charge of abusing Sunday pool games in his store. This morning he pleaded not guilty, and the case was set down for trial Tuesday afternoon.

Roy Van Buren was arrested by Sergeant Whinnery on a warrant charging him with rape. This morning he was taken to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury. The alleged rape was committed on a negro girl on Field Court some time ago. Van Buren has been working out of town but came home Saturday when he was arrested.

THANKSGIVING WITH COMPANY A

How sumptuously one Kingston boy at least who is in military service fared on Thanksgiving Day is indicated in the following letter which has been received by Mrs. Lettie Post of No. 585 Broadway, whose son, Corporal Jay D. Ellis, is now stationed at Camp Meade, Maryland:

Company A, 12th Infantry, Camp Meade, Maryland, November 27, 1920.

Mrs. Lettie Post, Kingston, N. Y.

We know that you missed your son on Thanksgiving Day and of course he thought of you. While Company "A," 12th Infantry could not fill the place of home folks and old friends with your boy, he did fill him to the utmost with the following menu for Thanksgiving dinner:

Oyster Stew
Shrimp Salad
Celery
Roast Turkey a la Maryland
Aunt Dinah Dressing
Cranberry Sauce
Giblet Gravy
Creamed Potatoes
Pumpkin Pie
Chocolate Cake
Apple Cider
Mixed Nuts
Cigars
Cigarettes

On this occasion the wives and friends of several of the men were guests of the company. We would have been glad to have had you with us for the "feet" and the other pleasures which the day afforded.

The company commander desires that you feel personal interest in the 12th Infantry, and in this company in particular. It is his desire to return to you your son, when he shall have completed his service, stronger physically, more alert mentally and with a real HE MAN, fitted to become a useful citizen. May we not enlist your interest and moral support in our endeavor?

Very sincerely,
ROY S. GIBSON,
Captain, 12th Infantry,
Commanding Company "A."
